West Palm Beach, FL — [October 1, 2023] —The Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens is proud to present "The Divine Feminine: Contemporary Women Sculptors," a transformative exhibition curated by Sarah Gavlak and Allison Raddock in partnership with New Wave. This remarkable showcase will run from December 1st, 2023, through May 1st, 2024, at the historic Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens in West Palm Beach, Florida.

"The Divine Feminine" celebrates the artistic prowess and spiritual depth of contemporary female sculptors. This exhibition invites visitors to explore the profound contributions of women sculptors, highlighting the divine feminine energy that permeates their work. Through a curated selection of works that span a broad spectrum of artistic styles and perspectives, this exhibition serves as a vivid testament to the diverse, richly nuanced tapestry of the sculptural world as seen through the eyes of these celebrated artists.

Internationally recognized artists featured in the exhibition includes Leilah Babirye, Judy Chicago, Ruth Duckworth, Katharina Fritsch, Martha Friedman, Rachel Hovnanian, Claude Lalanne, Beverly Pepper, Niki de Saint Phalle, Arlene Shechet, Kiki Smith and more.

We think "The Divine Feminine" will be a memorable exhibition in the world of contemporary sculpture, offering a space for these talented women to express their creativity, spirituality, and unique perspectives through their artwork, said Sarah Gavlak and Allison Raddock, the curators of the exhibition.
